

Join us at NCSS!

Bring History to Life!

Friday, December 2

10:00 AM

Exhibit Hall Classroom B

This engaging session will provide participants with multiple resources to infuse powerful literacy strategies into social studies instruction. Through hands-on, interactive activities, participants will learn ways to help students communicate their understanding and make connections in social studies through rich listening, speaking, reading, and writing opportunities. Participants will leave with strategies to immediately implement with students, and participate in a drawing for free resources.

Presenter: Linda McKelvey,
Academic Officer, Teacher Created Materials

Connecting ELA and Social Studies

Saturday December 3

9:15 AM

Room 201

Elementary students need opportunities to read complex text, with a distinct focus on building knowledge on interesting topics. Learn about a collaboration between ELA and social studies professionals that allows this to happen.

Presenter: Jennifer Jump,
District of Columbia Public Schools, Washington, DC

